What practices does this include?

- Presentation accommodations
   – Allow students to access information in ways that do not require visual reading of standard print.
- Response accommodations Allow students to complete activities or respond to questions in different ways.
- Setting accommodations Change the location in which an activity or test occurs or the conditions of the setting.
- Timing and Scheduling accommodations Change the way in which the time is organized.

Accommodations Guide for Spring 2010 CRT Administration

NEW THIS YEAR!

- New coding with **: to indicate accommodations that are most appropriate for students who have an IEP or 504 Plan
- Reminders:
  - There is no standard accommodation (including oral presentation) that provides an opportunity for a student to request or receive help on a specific word, phrase, line, pronunciation, definition, item, question, answer choice or any part of the assessment.
  - Standard accommodations do not override standard administration of the CRT or the need for independent work by the students.

Equipment Accommodations and Recording accommodations #16, 17, 19, and 20 specify the following guidance:

- Regardless of the device or method used in the accommodation, the test administrator must transfer what the student said/wrote/indicated directly into the appropriate space in the answer booklet.
- The student may review what the test administrator transferred, but the test administrator may not initiate any changes.
- Student answers must be entered into the answer booklet NOT on a separate piece of paper.

Guidelines for Oral Presentation Accommodation

- Assessment results support the accommodation.
- Documentation of remedial reading services and/or special education and supplementary aids and services.
- Through classroom assessment, it has been determined and documented that the student benefits from oral presentation as her/his way of learning.

Accommodations Guide for Spring 2010 CRT Administration

CAUTIONS Oral Presentation Accommodation

- This accommodation should be a low-incidence accommodation.
- Oral presentation should be limited to small groups of 3-5 students.
- In advance of the test sessions, students should be advised to follow along with the text as it is being read.

Accommodations Guide for Spring 2010 CRT Administration

Oral Presentation as a Non-Standard Accommodation

- Reading:
  - Reading aloud of the reading passages to a student or the student uses text-reader software for reading passages is considered a non-standard accommodation.

Accommodations Guide for Spring 2010 CRT Administration

Don't accommodations provide an unfair advantage to some?

- All students are expected to progress in the general education curriculum.
- Accommodations provide equal access to grade-level content for students with learning differences.
- Accommodations are intended to reduce or eliminate the effect of a disability, language limitation, or other learning difference.

Accommodations Guide for Spring 2010 CRT Administration

15

Right to Accommodations Guaranteed by Law

- Students with disabilities and limited English proficiency are required to participate in state and system wide assessments with appropriate accommodations where needed.
- The state must report the number of students with disabilities provided with accommodations in order to participate in the regular assessment.

Accommodations Guide for Spring 2010 CRT Administration

Impact of Accommodations on Test Scores

Standard Accommodations change the way in which a student participates in a test, but do not alter what the test is designed to measure.

Nonstandard Accommodations

change the nature of what is being measured by a test.

Impact on Validity of Test

Score: none; score can be aggregated with scores of students taking the test without accommodations.

Impact on Validity of Test

Score: The score becomes invalid; the student becomes a non-participant when calculating participation rates for AYP, and the score is not included in calculating a school's proficiency rate for AYP.

Student will be considered a non-participant in the calculation of the AYP participation rate.

Link Between Testing and Instructional Accommodations

- Accommodation use in testing should reflect the same type of supports used by the student in daily instruction.
- The specific and unique demands of the testing situation should also be considered in identifying needed supports.

Accommodations Guide for Spring 2010 CRT Administration

Setting	-Can the student focus on his or her own work with 25-30 other students in a quiet setting? -Does the student display behaviors that are distracting to other students taking the test?
	-Can the student take the test in the same way it is administered tother students?
	-If the student needs some external support (e.g., interpreter), would this be distracting to others?
Timing	-Can the student work continuously for the entire length of a typically administered portion of the test?
	-Does the student use accommodations that require more time to complete individual test items?
Scheduling	-Does the student take a medication that dissipates over time?
Scheduling	-Does the student take a medication that dissipates over time? -Does the student's anxiety level increase dramatically when working in certain content areas?

Continued:
Presentation	-Can the student listen to and follow oral directions given by an adult or an audiotape? -Can the student see and hear? -Can the student read?
Response	-Can the student track from a test booklet to a test response form? -Is the student able to manipulate a pencil or other writing instrument?
Other	-Is this the first time that the student will be taking this type of test?  -Other considerations??

Do's and Don'ts in Using Testing Accommodations

Do.....

•make accommodation decisions on an individual basis.

 systematically use accommodations during instruction and carry these same practices into the assessment process.

•base the decision about accommodations on the individual needs of the student.

•consult the state list of testing accommodations after determining what the student needs.

•evaluate the student's accommodations periodically because student needs change over time.

Do not.....

•make accommodation decisions on a group basis

•introduce a new accommodation for the first time in an assessment.

•base the decision about what accommodations a student will use on the student's disability category.

•start from the state list of accommodations when considering what accommodations a student will use in an upcoming test.

•pick accommodations once and then never reevaluate the need for them or for new ones.
